FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Alpha Strategies, LLC Engages Exowatt for Federal Lobbying Services

Washington-based firm to support Exowatt's energy policy interests beginning October 15, 2026

WASHINGTON, D.C. – October 15, 2026 – Alpha Strategies, LLC, a bipartisan federal government relations and strategic advisory firm, today announced that it has been retained by Exowatt to provide federal lobbying services beginning October 15, 2026.

Under the agreement, Alpha Strategies will represent Exowatt in Washington, D.C., engaging senior Members of Congress, Administration officials, and key stakeholders to advance the company's interests related to federal policy, government contracting, and the deployment of its modular, dispatchable energy systems.

"We are pleased to partner with Exowatt as the company works to deliver reliable, clean American power solutions at a time of rapidly growing demand from data centers and other energy-intensive sectors," said Adnan Jalil, Principal of Alpha Strategies, LLC. "We look forward to supporting Exowatt's efforts to navigate the federal landscape and advance outcomes that strengthen American energy security and infrastructure."

Exowatt headquartered in Miami, Florida, develops modular solar-thermal energy systems designed to provide up to 24 hours of dispatchable power. Its flagship P3 platform captures solar energy, stores it as heat, and converts it to electricity on demand, targeting applications such as AI data centers and commercial facilities that require reliable, on-site baseload power without dependence on rare-earth minerals or extended grid interconnection timelines.

"Working with Alpha Strategies gives us experienced representation in Washington as we scale solutions that address one of the most pressing infrastructure challenges facing the United States," said Hannan Happi, Chief Executive Officer and Co-Founder of Exowatt, "Reliable, domestically sourced power is essential to meeting the needs of the digital economy, and we value partners who understand how to engage effectively with policymakers."

Alpha Strategies will register the engagement as required under the Lobbying Disclosure Act and will conduct its activities in full compliance with applicable federal laws and regulations.
